CLASS DESCRIPTION: This training is designed to be an introduction to the most widely known theories of child development. Students will learn about the contributions from Jean Piaget, Erik Erikson, Sigmund Freud and many more.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES: As a result of this training, participants will be able to:

- Match different developmental outlooks with specific theorists
- Identify the individual stages of different social and emotional development theories
- Identify the individual stages of learning and cognitive development

WHAT OTHERS ARE SAYING:

It was useful to learn more about Animism, Artificialism and Ego-centrism.

– Jennifer O., NV

I enjoyed all of the information. It was a great review course for me.

– Lisa S., MO

It was helpful learning how a child/infant's brain works and the reasoning behind the things they do.

– Melissa C., NC

Piaget's stages of preoperational development were very beneficial.

– Selina L., SC
